

Supporting the sense of self

What evidence is there that shows you are doing this now?

Record examples of what you are doing well and then brainstorm any opportunities for improvement.

You might ask yourself:

- Do you record a person's life story as part of assessment?
- Do you ask consumers about their hopes for the future?
- Do you take into account the experiences of staff when matching staff to consumers?
- Do staff understand the reasons for changed behaviours when a person has dementia?

	What are we doing now?	What more can we do?
